

The Cold Kitty

I was very cold. I see huge light brown fur. It was a dog. The fur invited me to sleep on the fluffy fur. The dog made a scary sound of snoring. The sound reminded me of a tiger that tried to eat me. The smell was unfamiliar. It was an unpleasant smell. The smell reminded me of when I didn't take a bath. The texture was soft and cuddly. It was pleasant to touch it. The fur made me feel calm, warm and sleepy.

Lazy dog but active cats! 😊

I was born with a twin on this day. 5 years later me and my twin went for a walk. We both saw a dog that was huge it walked just right past us. So me and my twin kept on walking, a few hours later we saw another dog that looked familiar to the one that we walked past. Me and my twin stared at the dog but it wasn't waking up. So we tried jumping on him, hopping, making loud noises, splash water on him and poking him but he didn't wake up. Well since we spend all that time waking him we decided to sleep on him since we were tired.

THE NICE NAP

I see I am on top of a nice, cosy, brown dog. I feel a cold breeze right on my fluffy fur. I see a black cat with green eyes that looks strangely similar to me. I am in a strange place that appears to be a snowy field with patches of yellowy, brown grass. I hear birds chirping around me and a slight, small purr next to me. There are people chatting quite loud in a distance. I can smell the mmmmmmm... yummy hot chocolates and the fire's smoke flowing around me. When I touched the dog's soft fur I felt safe, warm and cosy just like I was home. I felt very nice, safe and cosy.

What! Oh no! The black cats are back! Their teeth clinking, their itchy fur on my back, but they are very warm, and on this cold snowy winters day, maybe I should let them on me, but no, no no no!, I cannot stand that itchy, horrible, sensation of them rolling all over me! But I'm sooooo cold!! UUUUGH! What should I do! Should I freeze and be comfortable or be warm and but be unc.... WOW! That's actually not soooo bad! I'm warm but not toooo uncomfortable, the warmth and company is nice on cold winters days! We are friends now and....it's not to bad!!

The Snowy Day

As I was rushing down the steep street,

I felt the icy wind, making my cheeks feel like they are frozen. I went into the park and I set my eyes down the oak fencing, and here they were. The two kittens making them look like black fur balls, purring like they were crying for help, while lying on top of a big, brown furry pillow that has black, beady eyes.

FREEZING

I was walking to my house and then I saw a dog and 2 cats, they were sleeping on the cold snow that was half melted, it reminded me of my uncle that use to live in Canada. It made me feel excited because I hoped my mum would let me keep them.

As I was sitting with them I heard a familiar sound, it was wind, the wind sound had a pleasant sound because the wind song was a happy sound ,It was very comforting It made me feel relaxed! The smell of the fresh air was familiar It was a pleasant smell. It reminded me of my grandmother's garden in Nepal. It made me feel like going to Nepal. The snow was cold and smooth, I felt like lying on the snow.

CAT AND DOG FRIENDS

Yay! Me And My Sister Are On The Cozy, Cuddly, Soft, Warm

Warmth Of My Best Friend Dug , He Is Like The Size Of Mount Everest To Us . “He’s So Fluffy”.He Tells Us To Get Off But We Can’t Help It Because There Is Snow Around Us And We Want To Keep Warm. He Was Snoring Sooooo Unpleasantly Though. “Were Trying To Sleep Dug”. He Smells Like Stinky Socks! It Is So Grose. I Can Feel His Heart Beating Slowly And Warmly, I Can Taste The Cold Air Brush Down The Back Of My Throat, It Sends A Shiver Up My Spine. Ooh I Hate It When That Happens But Anyway Apart From The Fact That Dug Smells And He Snores Loudly, I Feel Safe.

A SNOWY DAY

There is soft brown fur beneath my body. It reminds me of my soft blanket at home, except, I'm not at home. I appear to be in the middle of a vast, snowy field. I look back down at the fur and I realise it is a dog. But, the dog appeared to be in a deep sleep. I hear a soft purr beside me which brings my attention to a small black cat. The cat looks strangely like me. Suddenly, a gust of ice-cold wind hits the back of my neck and my fur stands on end. But, soon my attention is brought back to the dog because of a loud snort it makes. It sounds as if he is having a great dream. In my mouth, I can taste cold snow melting on my tongue. The soft fur started to make my eyes close, and I drifted into a deep sleep.

The fur balls

There are three smelly balls of fur lying on my back in the cold snow. This reminds me of the time I saw a dog a chicken and a cat lying on the couch all curled upon a couch the balls of fur were very soft but super smelly everything was pleasant except for the smell

Of the fur balls
